SUMMARY

Hi! I'm Rinaldi Ihsan Setiawan, a Computer Science student at Malikussaleh University, originally from Medan, North Sumatra. I am a passionate full-stack JavaScript developer with expertise in both frontend and backend development. On the frontend, I specialize in Next.js and React.js, creating responsive and interactive user interfaces using Tailwind CSS, Framer Motion, and Shadcn UI. My backend skills include building robust APIs with Express.js and Node.js, along with strong database management in both SQL and NoSQL using Prisma ORM. I am dedicated to building high-performance web applications by leveraging the JavaScript ecosystem's full potential. Through my experience as a remote developer, I've demonstrated the ability to deliver quality solutions while effectively collaborating in distributed teams.
